WEST HALL

Mr. and Mrs. Westin

For twenty-nine years Mr. and Mrs. Westin have made many vital contributions to our community. "Doc" Westin has spurred many a lackadaisical student on during his "forty-three decades" teaching Physics. Any student in one of his classes had to learn one basic rule of Physics: "Commit no nincompoopery." His practical applications of the rules of pressure and momentum could only make the acquisition of such knowledge easier or at least more fun. Mrs. Westin has undoubtedly aided with countless term papers the night before they were due. Their departure signifies the end of an era at Northfield-Mount Hermon. What more than a simple "Thank you" can be said?

Mr. and Mrs. Baldwin

The Baldwins have been expounding upon literature in all its forms for thirty-one years. Students have profitted greatly from both the Baldwins' interest in all the areas of public speaking. As well as being "the voice of Hermon football" for many years, Mr. Baldwin enlivened his classes with various anecdotes about England the "the War." Mrs. Baldwin has contributed greatly to the study of comedy and her dramatic donations have entertained the entire community. They certainly deserve the quiet retirement on the Cape that they have been looking forward to for so many years.

 In a hole in the ground there lived a hobbit.
 Not a nasty, dirty, wet hole, filled with the

 that means comfort.

... But Man is so fond of systems and abstract deductions that he is ready to distort the truth intentionally, he is ready to deny what he can see and hear just to justify his logic.

Notes From Underground
Dostoevsky

David Ross Reece

Andrietta "A.D." Reagan

Cheryl L. Reid
After thinking of the advantages and disadvantages of the two worlds I have many things to ask myself and that makes it so much harder.

Sergio A. Raynal
Walker, there isn't a path; you ought to make it walking. Walking you make the way, and when you turn around; you'll see the path that you will never walk again.
J.M.S.

Tempe L. Reichardt
Life is like a jagged tooth that cuts into your heart; fix the tooth and save the root and laughs, not tears, will start.

Jean A. Riesman
Fools rush in where angels fear to tread, but all the angels are in heaven and few of the fools are dead.
James Thurber

Anne E. Rippe
The good life exists only when you stop wanting a better one. It is the condition of savoring what is, rather than longing for what might be.
Marya Mannes

Marjory D. Robertson

Dru A. Rivers
Woe is me, for I am truly undone.
Shakespeare

Gregory F. Roberge
I would be true, for there are those who trust me; I would be pure, for there are those who care; I would be strong, for there is much to suffer; I would be brave, for there is much to dare.

Carolyn J. Roantree
I now want to know all things under the sun, and the moon, too. For all things are beautiful in themselves, and become more beautiful when known to man. Knowledge is life with wings.
K. Gibran

Doreen L. Roberts
... looking out into the future wondering what lies ahead ... what does??? ... Thinks Mommie ... D.S., "Life has taught us that love does not consist in gazing at each other, but looking outward together in the same direction" and finally ... "I do my thing and you do your thing. I am not in this world to live up to your expectations, you are not in this world to live up to mine. You are you, and I am I, and if by chance we find each other, it's beautiful."
—My Friend

Jamie Robinson
It can be arranged! One further warning, my son; the use of books is endless, and much study is wearisome.
Ecclesiastes 12:12

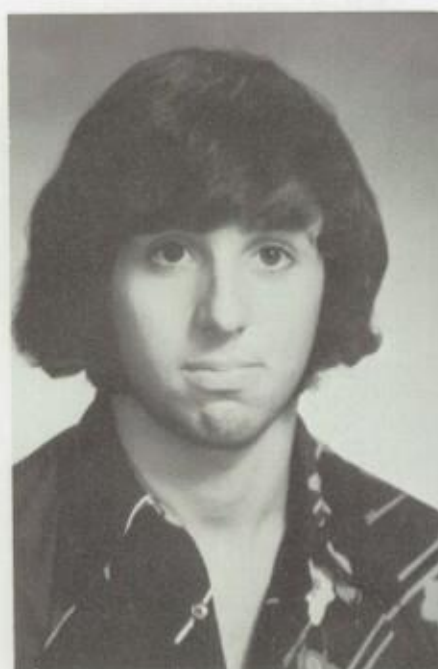

Katherine R. Roegner
Mama may have, Papa may have, but God bless the child that's got his own.

John E. Robinson
My ravings at the midnight air, rebound in terms of a foolish dare, Which I haphazardly accept on the spot. Maybe my dive will leave a dot, or two, (or three) on the Grand Canyon wall: Tokens of my endless fall, But in my drive I swear I'll curse the silent roaring air.

Jon S. Rosner

Jonathan M. Rosenoer
Dream on ... 'til your dreams come true.
Aerosmith

Deborah L. Rosenberg
I have trouble distinguishing between fiction and reality anyway and these people are doing nothing to make life any easier for me.

There is a road, No simply highway, Between the dawn and the dark of nigh. And if you go, no one may follow, That path is for your steps alone.

I do not know what I may appear to others, but to myself I seem to have been a small boy playing on the seashore and diverting myself in now and then finding a smoother pebble or a prettier shell than ordinary, whilst the great ocean of truth lay all undiscovered before me.
 Isaac Newton

Dine with little, sup with less; do better still: sleep supperless.
 Ben Franklin

James M. Shannon, Jr.
As is The Generation of leaves, So is That of Humanity. The Wind Scatters The Leaves on the Ground, but the live timbers burgeons
with leaves again in The Season Of Spring returning. So one generation of men will grow While another dies: Such is The Way of life.

I wish to preach not the doctrine of ignoble ease, but the doctrine of the strenuous life.
Theodore Roosevelt

Carolyn Mae Shores
Love is very patient and kind, never jealous or envious, never boastful or proud, never haughty or selfish or rude. Love does not demand its own. It is not irritable or touchy.
It does not hold grudges and will hardly even notice when others do it wrong. It is never glad about injustice, but rejoices whenever truth wins out. If you love someone you will be loyal to him no matter what the cost. You will believe in him, always expect the best of him, and always stand your ground in defending him. All special gifts and powers from God will someday come to an end, but love goes on forever.
